

CURRICULUM VITAE of Dr.JAYSHREE RAMKUMAR (PC)

Dr. Jayshree Ramkumar is working in the Analytical Chemistry Division of BARC. She is involved in the development of newer procedures for separation and monitoring of different species using solid and liquid membranes and sorbents ranging from bulk to nano materials. Her Ph.D. was on the Ion exchange and related studies on Nafion membrane. She has more than 55 publications in international peer reviewed journals and 6 chapters in books to her credit in the field of separation science. She was awarded the MANA fellowship for pursuing her postdoctoral research at the National Institute of Material Science (NIMS), Tsukuba, Japan. She is a part of the Editorial Board of various Journals. She is an Associate Professor and guide of HBNI, India and is serving as the principal collaborator for various projects. She is on the doctoral panel of students doing PhD in HBNI and also involved with evaluation of PhD thesis of different students from various universities.